Welcome to Algonquin Territory

Kwey Kwey, She:kon, Taanshi, Tunngasugit

Carleton University acknowledges the location of its campus on the traditional, unceded territories of the Algonquin Anishinàbeg nation. In doing so, Carleton acknowledges it has a responsibility to the Algonquin People and to adhere to Algonquin cultural protocols.

Honouring our relations

Algonquin People have lived in what is now known as the Ottawa Valley for thousands of years. Long before Canadian confederation, the founding of the city of Ottawa and the establishment of Carleton, Algonquin People were caring for these lands just as they continue to do today.

As part of Carleton's commitment to nurture mutually respectful relationships with Algonquin People, many partnerships exist between the university and neighbouring Indigenous communities. The communities of Kitigan Zibi Anishinàbeg and the Algonquins of Pikwakanagan have played critical roles in developing strategies for supporting Indigenous students at Carleton, and in guiding policy and program initiatives.

The Kinàmagawin Report: Increasing Indigenous support and success

Carleton's comprehensive Kinàmagawin Report commits Carleton to fulfilling 41 Calls to Action in order to increase Indigenous student enrolment, supports and success.

This important publication is a comprehensive strategy for ensuring that Indigenous perspectives, traditional knowledge, teaching and learning practices are present within classrooms.

In May 2020, Carleton released its Kinàmagawin Progress Report, showcasing the collective work that has been undertaken to address the 41 Calls to Action in the original report. Updated progress reports were released in 2022 and 2024.

As Carleton continues to learn from and welcome Indigenous Peoples to our campus, we understand that these important relationships will benefit future generations.

Together, we will create a future empowered by our collective past.

Welcome to Carleton University

Taanshi and Welcome!

On behalf of our team at the Centre for Indigenous Support and Community Engagement, I would like to welcome you to the Carleton community.

As you are thinking about attending university, you likely have a number of questions. This is particularly true if you are a first generation post-secondary student or the first in your family to attend university. The process can be overwhelming at times and this is why our team is here — to help you navigate that process, and find the answers to your questions.

Each year we welcome over 600 First Nation, Métis and Inuit students to the Indigenous community on campus. Our team serves to connect you, the student, with Indigenous faculty and staff who can support you on your learning journey. Repeatedly, we have seen that students who are connected to our Centre have better outcomes in both academic success and overall health and well-being. So don't be stranger! Come, say hello, and let us help you start making connections! Let's learn from each other and journey together during your time at Carleton.

Kaawaapamitin,
Benny Michaud (she/they/him)
Director, Centre for Indigenous Support and Community Engagement

Kwey Kakina, Mino Piimaadziwin

We have just come through some of the most challenging years of our lifetime. Yet, you are all here, ready to take on this post-secondary journey. You may not even be aware, but you are stronger and more ready for this than you realize.

Indigenous People who know their culture understand they are never alone. There are seven generations of ancestors who walk with you each day. I want you all to know: I believe in you. More importantly, I want you to believe in yourself. We are going to step forward, rise up and create the best learning journey for ourselves this year.

We are not alone. We can do it together.

With respect,
Kokum Barbara Dumont-Hill

Nursing

In partnership with Indigenous community members, the Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BScN) at Carleton University includes award winning Collaborative Indigenous Learning Bundles led by Prof. Kahente Horn-Miller. Carleton's BScN aligns with the Calls to Action as outlined in our the very own Kinàmàgawin Report. This program includes courses on traditional healing methods, the history and impact of colonization on Indigenous health, and strategies to provide culturally sensitive care, which are also in line with the Truth and Reconciliation Commission's Call to Action #19, aiming to improve health outcomes for Indigenous peoples by better integrating Indigenous knowledge and perspectives into healthcare education as it exists today.

General Studies (Online)

The Bachelor of Arts in General Studies (Online) is a multidisciplinary 15-credit, non-honours program. This is our first fully online degree program. It is ideal for students interested in flexible distance learning options in subjects in the humanities, social sciences, and culture and communication.

Centre for Indigenous Support and Community Engagement

The Centre for Indigenous Support and Community Engagement at Carleton offers an open and safe space for all to experience and enjoy.

Find support here

Our Centre supports students, staff and faculty at Carleton by providing culturally safe spaces for dialogue and learning. We do this by nurturing a sense of belonging for Indigenous students and by developing and delivering resources and training to educate the Carleton community about the experiences, histories and worldviews of Indigenous Peoples.

Helping students to maintain health and well-being is critical to the work that we do. Our workshops and events support students' physical, mental, emotional and spiritual well-being. This means affirming the experiences of Two-Spirit/LGBTQIA+ (2SLGBTQIA+) people and ensuring the spaces we maintain are safe and inclusive.

Our work is guided by our deep connection with ancestral teachings and our recognition of the Algonquin People within whose territory our office is located. For more information about all we do, visit carleton.ca/indigenous/cisce.

It is said that the longest journey is from the head to the heart — our goal at the Centre for Indigenous Support and Community Engagement is to serve as helpers along the way.

"As an institution, Carleton is very open to integrating the perspectives of Algonquin communities in its initiatives and is working towards reconciliation. A large part of my role at the Centre is to ensure that Algonquin perspectives are heard and reflected across the university. This is important work because it helps incoming and current Indigenous Carleton students feel represented and supported, and each member of our team is truly invested in helping our students break down any barriers they may have. If you're an Indigenous student whose path is leading towards Carleton, I strongly encourage you to connect with us at the Centre, come in and say hi, and check out the many resources available to you here."

Hear from our students

"My primary motivation for pursuing Psychology at Carleton is my longstanding interest in promoting the mental and physical well-being of our Indigenous peoples, particularly the younger generation. I hope and aspire to work as a Cree psychologist in my community, and I am confident that Carleton will provide me with the resources I need."

William Blacksmith, Cree, BA Psychology student

"I knew I wanted to help others — either directly through practicing medicine or indirectly through research. The Dean's Summer Research Internship gave me the privilege of working alongside a professor on several community-based research projects. I travelled to Northwestern Ontario to learn from and build relationships with youth from diverse backgrounds. I also currently work for CISCE as a peer mentor in the Community Partners stream."

Noah Bennell, Métis, Neuroscience and Mental Health, studying medicine starting in fall 2024

"Since I was younger, I have had the desire to help people who are struggling in the world. After the completion of my degree, I plan on aiding rural Indigenous communities and advocating on behalf of the population's well-being, aiming toward achieving the goal of reconciliation."

Kirsta Goodman, Ojibwe, Social Work student and Social Work Relational Resurgence Committee member

"The faculty in my program really care about my success and work hard to find hands-on learning experiences out of the classroom. Thanks to their support, I've been able to participate in exciting international opportunities that are directly related to what I'm learning in my courses. Through CISCE, I participated in workshops, studied and attended events in the Ojigkwanong Centre."

Aiyana Louis, Ojibwe, Environmental and Climate Change Studies student

Ojigkwanong Indigenous Student Centre

The Ojigkwanong Centre was designed in 2013 by renowned architect Douglas Cardinal and named after Elder William Commanda's spirit name, meaning "Morning Star." It is a student lounge where First Nations, Métis and Inuit students can study, socialize and participate in academic and cultural programming. It features a medicine lodge, kitchenette, lounge area, study space, computer lab and telephone booth.

The centre is located at 228 Paterson Hall and is open from Monday to Friday. More information about this space can be found here: carleton.ca/indigenous/cisce/students/ojigkwanong-indigenous-student-centre.

"As a deaf Indigenous student who uses American Sign Language, I was nervous to start university. Within the first week, I joined an orientation event at the Ojigkwanong Centre. The Centre welcomed me warmly and I met so many like-minded Indigenous students and staff. They have so many support services and provide a safe space for all of us."

Paula Robyn MacDonald, Pasqua First Nation, Saulteaux Cree, Indigenous and Canadian Studies graduate

"The Carleton community has been so welcoming to me as an Inuk student. I've been a part of the Indigenous students' community since 2016 and have met so many amazing students and faculty in lectures, at the Ojigkwanong Centre and around campus. There has been work done to educate professors on Inuit history which made integration into their classrooms smooth. The Centre has also done on-the-ground work in educating themselves with Inuit traditional practices to include in student programming. I would recommend Carleton to all of my Inuit colleagues who wish to pursue post-secondary education."

Tamara Takpannie, Inuk, Iqaluit, Canadian Studies graduate

The Kinàmàgawin Symposium

This annual event, supported by Call 12 of the 2020 Kinàmàgawin Report, works to address timely Indigenous topics chosen by our Indigenous students. The day-long event hosts First Nations, Métis and Inuit academics from across Turtle Island who share their knowledge in relation to the conference theme through Indigenous pedagogical practices. The event is free of charge and open to Indigenous and non-Indigenous students, staff and faculty.

Indigenous Graduation Honouring Ceremony

Carleton Indigenous students participate in a spring graduation ceremony with other post-secondary schools in the Ottawa area. The celebration honours the achievements each student has made through their hard work and dedication.

Indigenous Enriched Support Program

Helping you reach your goals

The Indigenous Enriched Support Program (IESP) is designed for First Nations (status and non-status), Métis and Inuit learners. This program offers opportunities for prospective Indigenous students to demonstrate their potential to succeed at university.

The IESP provides many services:

- Personal and accessible help with application processes, course registration, program selection and academic career planning;
- A network of instructors, academic subject facilitators, peer mentors, writing and study skills coaches, and program coordinators who work together to ensure participants' success;
- An Indigenous Studies first-year seminar;
- Indigenous peer mentors who provide IESP participants with personal and front-line support in accessing both IESP and Indigenous resources on campus; and
- Links with Indigenous resources and contacts, such as the Centre for Indigenous Initiatives, Ojigkwanong Indigenous Student Centre, Centre for Indigenous Research, Culture, Language and Education (CIRCLE) and the Mawandoseg Centre (CUSA Indigenous Student Service Centre).

We also offer several awards for Indigenous students in the IESP, as outlined on pages 18-21.

Indigenous peer mentors are also available to provide personal and front-line support in accessing IESP and Indigenous resources on campus. To learn more information or book an appointment, visit carleton.ca/iesp.

How do you apply?

IESP does not base its admissions decisions on grades alone. For this reason, we ask students to submit an application package including an application form, two letters of reference and a personal statement. IESP applications are not made through the Ontario University Application Centre. Instead, interested applicants apply directly by email: iesp@carleton.ca

"The IESP is an incredible program that is rooted in Indigenous teaching, ways of knowing and tradition. Our team strives to support students holistically, offering supports that will ensure students not only succeed academically, but also feel connected to their culture, build close relationships with other Indigenous students and staff, and are supported in their mental, physical, emotional and spiritual well-being."

Rylee Godin, Métis, IESP Specialist and Counsellor

"I was very grateful to be taken into the Indigenous Enriched Support Program after being out of school for a very long time. Everyone from the administrators to the facilitators has been really supportive and I felt welcome in the program. The whole experience has given me a sense of hope and optimism about my future."

Jacob T. Maracle, Mohawk (Six Nations/Haudenosaunee), recent IESP student

Your campus

We live up to our reputation for being a compassionate, connected and caring community. Our students, faculty and staff are united in striving for a brighter, more inclusive and sustainable tomorrow.

Unrivalled student life and support services

We've built a truly inclusive community that cares. There are many lounges and common spaces to hang out with your new friends, and more than 170 clubs and societies. You'll also be supported by our academic support and advising centres, and health and wellness services.

Contained campus close to downtown

Our secluded and contained campus is surrounded by natural beauty. Carleton campus is contained within 62 hectares just outside the city centre. Campus is bordered by residential neighbourhoods, the Rideau River and the historic Rideau Canal, an official UNESCO World Heritage Site. Carleton is serviced by OC Transpo, our local public bus and light rail transit system.

Join us for a tour or event

Explore our campus in person or take a virtual tour from home. Visit lecture halls, classrooms, labs and residence. Find out how we can help you achieve your goals. We also offer several events throughout the year to connect you to the Carleton community and to answer your questions.

We've got you covered!

Five kilometres of accessible tunnels link all of Carleton's buildings. When it's a stormy or rainy day, you can get to the dining hall or food court, to the gym, to class and back again without going outside.

Your home on campus

Carleton Residence is more than your home away from home. It's a supportive community where you'll meet new friends, feel supported and learn more about yourself.

Your community

Our 12 residence buildings are not just a place to live, they're a place to call home. The residence precinct is connected by Teraanga Commons and the outdoor residence quad. Common spaces include a large dining hall, a fitness centre and games room, common TV and study lounges on each floor, a smudge space, multi-faith prayer and meditation room, and a Black Student Hub.

Fresh, local food

Teraanga Commons Dining Hall, our residence dining facility, has a wide variety of healthy, freshly-cooked meals and lots of options for diverse dietary needs. The dining hall has a buffet-style service area, with meals cooked right in front of you, and large seating areas to meet up with friends and encourage community building. For those late-night cravings, Oasis is a great place to socialize and grab delicious comfort food. housing.carleton.ca/fees-and-food

Get involved

Living in residence is about learning, growing and connecting with friends. Meet students from other programs and develop new skills by attending or volunteering at residence events and activities. housing.carleton.ca/get-involved

We're here for you

Living away from home for the first time can be challenging, and we're here to support you. Our residence support network includes residence fellows, counsellors, live-in professional residence staff and a 24/7 reception desk. housing.carleton.ca/living-in-residence

Your new room

When you apply to residence, you'll fill out a questionnaire about your interests and habits. Through our residence application system, you can create a roommate group based on your preferences and interests — and you'll have the opportunity to select your own room.

Example of a double traditional room.

Meet friends and hang out in the Raven's Roost — play video games, pool, foosball and ping pong.

Traditional rooms have one or two beds and share a washroom with another room. Most students will be assigned a double traditional room. We have a few traditional-style rooms in pods with double or single rooms with a shared washroom and common area.

Gender-inclusive living

If you select this option, your roommate, pod or suitemates will be assigned by matching your profile questions, but without considering gender.

First-year guarantee

All secondary school and CEGEP students entering first year in the fall semester who receive an offer of admission on or before May 16, 2025 are guaranteed a double traditional room. You must accept the residence offer and pay the deposit online by June 9, 2025. You can still apply even if you don't meet these criteria. housing.carleton.ca/future-residents/apply-to-residence

The value of living on campus

We've got you covered. Living on campus is more than just housing. Residence fees cover all-inclusive dining, support services, activities and an inspiring community.

Carleton ranks within the Top 5 in Canada for student satisfaction. Students say they feel a sense of security in residence and across campus, and that living in residence was one of the best decisions they made.

Housing Fees
Type	On-campus	Off-campus
Cost	$12,907 (traditional double, guaranteed) $14,456 (traditional single, limited)	$12,000 – $24,000
Period	8 months*	1 year
Inclusions	Furnishings, internet, utilities, All Access Meal plan, 24/7 reception desk, live-in professional staff, access to residence counsellors	See rental agreement
Additional costs		Furnishings, internet, utilities, food

*Note: Residence is available 12 months of the year and requires an application for the summer term.
 Note: Additional costs are based on common practices within Ottawa for rentals. Leases often require signing on for one year.

“Living in residence provided a supportive transition to university life. I met lots of new people and my roommate became one of my best friends. A lot of the stress of starting university was lessened by having food and internet taken care of, being within 10 minutes to classes and the gym, and having residence staff and counsellors available for support.”

Kate Giles, Architectural Studies student, specializing in Conservation and Sustainability

Awards and financial aid for Indigenous students

Carleton offers a wide range of awards for Indigenous students. In addition to the awards listed below, students who have self-identified as Indigenous (First Nation, Inuit or Métis) remain eligible to be considered for Carleton's Undergraduate bursaries, scholarships and federal and provincial student loan programs. Exploring community support

You may be able to access educational supports through your community with whom you hold status or membership. Contact them directly for more information on opportunities.

"During my three years at Carleton, I have had the pleasure of learning from both students and faculty. Despite being so far away from home, Carleton has always made me feel at home. Whether that be through clubs or services, I have always been provided with the support I required to be successful. Through services provided at the Centre for Indigenous Support and Community Engagement and Ojigkwanong, I have become increasingly close to my cultural roots, while also becoming more connected to a diverse and abundant Indigenous community at Carleton."

Tuition, bursaries and scholarships

Carleton offers one of the most generous scholarship programs in the country. Last year, more than 13,500 scholarships and bursaries totalling over $27.7 million were awarded to undergraduate students.

Entrance Scholarships

Students admitted to Carleton with an admission average of 80 per cent or better will automatically be considered for a renewable Entrance Scholarship at the time of admission. You must be entering Carleton for the first time from high school or CEGEP and have no previous attendance at post-secondary educational institutions. Offered for fall entry.

Prestige Scholarships

You will be considered for our highest awards if you are entering Carleton directly from high school or CEGEP with an admission average of 90 per cent or better. The selection committee will also assess the range of your community or secondary school extracurricular activities. An application and letter of reference are required.

Scholarships for college/university transfer students

If you are an excellent student from a Canadian college or are transferring from another university in Canada to a full-time undergraduate program at Carleton, you may be eligible for one of our scholarships for transfer students. Offered for fall entry only.

Entrance Bursaries

A bursary is a monetary award similar to a scholarship, but it's awarded primarily on financial need rather than academic achievement. A Carleton Entrance Bursary will provide you with additional funds and will help you meet the direct education costs of your first-year studies.

Leadership Entrance Bursaries

High school students who have taken a leadership role in their school's extracurricular activities and in community service may also be considered for a competitive Leadership Entrance Bursary. Some of these awards include:

- Helen and Douglas Nicholson Science Entrance Bursary (valued at full tuition)
- CIBC Bursaries (valued at $5,000)
- Carleton University Alumni Association Leadership Bursary (valued at $5,000)
- Donald R. Yeomans Bursary (valued at full tuition)
- Douglas Arthur de Pencier Bursary (valued at $6,000)

Information about entrance bursaries and how to apply can be found at carleton.ca/awards/awards/bursaries/entrance-bursaries

Awards for Students with Disabilities

There are several awards and financial aid options to incoming students with a permanent disability. Information about these awards can be found at carleton.ca/awards/awards/students-with-disabilities-awards. Students are also encouraged to visit Carleton's Paul Menton Centre for Students with Disabilities website for more award opportunities. carleton.ca/pmc

Awards for Indigenous Students

Carleton offers a wide range of awards for Indigenous students, some of which include:

- Garay Family Award for Indigenous Students in Science (valued at $4,000)
- Humphrey Law Bursary for Indigenous Students in Business (valued at $5,000)
- Joyce Family Foundation Bursary (valued at $5,000)
- Mohawk Nation Education Bursary (valued at $2,000)

Information about Indigenous student awards and how to apply can be found at carleton.ca/awards/awards/indigenous-students-awards

Work Study Program

Every year, we help hundreds of undergraduate students finance their studies and gain new skills by offering work-study employment on campus. Applicants must demonstrate financial need. carleton.ca/awards/other-resources/work-study

There are many other job postings that students can apply for that are not the Work Study Program. Visit Career Services to learn about other job opportunities on campus: carleton.ca/career

Government Student Aid

For Ontario residents, the Ontario Student Assistance Program (OSAP) may help cover the cost of your post-secondary studies. For information on OSAP and instructions on how to apply, visit carleton.ca/osap. Similar programs also exist in other provinces and territories: carleton.ca/awards/government-financial-aid/out-of-province

Exploring Ottawa

CONNECTING YOU TO THE WORLD

The city of Ottawa is located within unceded traditional Anishinàbeg Algonquin territory. Over a million people call Ottawa home. It is an architecturally and environmentally stunning city surrounded by waterways, blending urban and rural beauty and providing year-round outdoor activities. It is a perfect blend of big-city resources and small-town connections.

The name Ottawa is derived from the Algonquin word Odawa, meaning “to trade.” It is a place of achievement and career opportunities, a research and development hub and heart of the federal government. The National Capital Region is a major economic engine, home to world-class industries, research centres and operations by major international companies.

Culture and engagement

Ottawa is home to seven of Canada's nine national museums and host to more than 50 local, national and international film, literary, music, food and cultural festivals.

Unique landmarks and experiences

Both a UNESCO World Heritage Site and a National Historic Site of Canada, the Rideau Canal is a 202 km historic waterway that connects a series of beautiful lakes and rivers. You can explore this major attraction all year — along its banks and sidewalks, on its water and as a 7.8 km skateway in the winter.

Ottawa's city centre

Discover shopping, dining, arts and entertainment in Ottawa's historic ByWard Market. Browse the outdoor farmers' market and artisan shops on the weekend, grab dinner with friends or stroll the bustling streets.

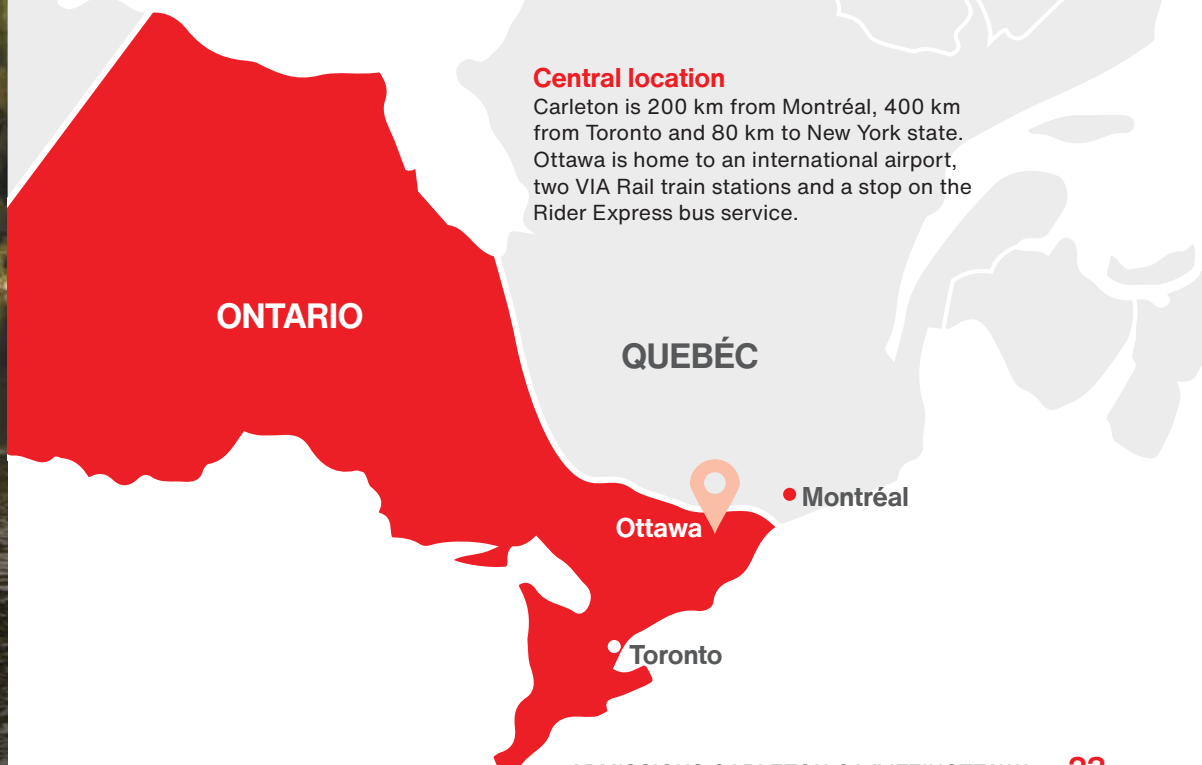

An entrepreneurial and global technology powerhouse

Ottawa boasts a vibrant entrepreneurial culture and is home to Kanata North, a global technology hub. The CU@Kanata innovation space allows our students to engage with more than 540 of its companies.

Central location

Carleton is 200 km from Montréal, 400 km from Toronto and 80 km to New York state. Ottawa is home to an international airport, two VIA Rail train stations and a stop on the Rider Express bus service.

Ottawa Indigenous Services

Ottawa is a very connected and supportive city, with several community services and groups.

"There are going to be times where you feel like you don't belong, or you shouldn't be here. I know I felt that way. However, that is far from the truth. You do belong here; you should be here, and you will succeed. It does not matter how long it takes you. There is no rush or deadline for your degree, your journey is your own journey. Do it your way."

Indigenous Policy and Administration

An online graduate diploma and master's concentration in Indigenous Policy and Administration are available. Both programs are grounded in a profound commitment to Indigenous self-determination, respecting the diversity of perspectives found among Indigenous cultures. carleton.ca/sppa/ipa

Carleton University and Nunavut Arctic College Exchange

In the spring of 2023, the Centre for Indigenous Support and Community Engagement (CISCE) facilitated the first annual Carleton University and Nunavut Arctic College Exchange. The exchange supports urban-based Inuit students to attend a one-week Land-Based Learning Course at the Piqqusilirivvik Cultural Centre in Clyde River, Nunavut. Inuit students participated in activities such as fishing, seal hunting, ice recognition, igloo building, storytelling and arctic survival skills, all taught by Elders and Knowledge Keepers from within an Inuit pedagogical framework. Nunavut Arctic College graduates are then hosted by Carleton University to support their goal of attending university.

Admission to Carleton

How to apply

Apply to Carleton online through the Ontario Universities' Application Centre (OUAC).
ouac.on.ca

International applicants in Ontario can apply through OUAC or directly to Carleton through Carleton360. 360.carleton.ca

Application deadlines

The following deadlines apply for admission to Carleton for fall term (September to December).

High school students in Ontario

Ontario high school students should submit their application to OUAC by January 15, 2025.

Why self-identify as an Indigenous student?

Self-identifying is highly recommended, as specific information about Indigenous awards and financial assistance, referrals to support services, access to cultural spaces and activities and more will be provided to you. When you self-identify as an Indigenous person, it benefits others by building a sense of community among Indigenous learners at Carleton. You can self-identify on your OUAC application or through Carleton's Centre for Indigenous Support and Community Engagement.

International students

The application deadline for students with documents from outside of Canada or the United States is April 1. Some programs have an early application deadline of February 15 or March 1 and some programs require additional admission material to complete your application.

High school students in the USA, Canada (excluding Ontario), and CEGEP students

The general application deadline for fall admission is June 1. Some programs have early application deadlines of February 15 or March 1 and some programs require additional admission material to complete your application.

Admission requirements

All admission information should be used as a guide only. Programs have limited enrolment and cut-off averages which may vary from year to year. In determining admissibility, Carleton reserves the right to take into account repeated courses, grades in specific subjects and other aspects of the student's academic record.

Prerequisite courses

Prerequisite courses are necessary requirements for admission to particular programs. Prerequisite course grades are included in the average calculated for admission.

Students in Canada

High school students

For admission requirements by degree program, view the Ontario admission requirements on pages 30-32. High school students in Canada (excluding Ontario) can supplement this information with the provincial and territorial requirements on page 33.

Ontario college students

Students from Ontario Colleges with a CGPA of 3.0 or higher are normally considered for admission after completing the first year of a two or three-year diploma program. Courses completed as part of a diploma program may be eligible for advanced standing (transfer) credit depending on the final grade, level of course, and if the course work is applicable to your program.

University students

Students applying from other recognized universities may be admitted if they are eligible to continue at their current institution and if they meet the requirements. Courses completed at another university may be eligible for advanced standing (transfer) credit depending on the final grade, level of course, and if the course work is applicable to the new program.

Students outside Canada

International high school students

Students in high schools achieving at least 12 years of study are considered for admission. For specific requirements by program, including prerequisites from various education systems, visit admissions.carleton.ca/apply. For some countries, applicants will be required to have completed one year of university studies. admissions.carleton.ca/international

Admissions information for CAPE, Chinese High School, Indian High School, French Baccalaureate, UK/British System A Levels, and WAEC is available at admissions.carleton.ca/international. We recognize and accept national qualifications from most countries. If your education system is not listed or if you need further information, please email us: international@carleton.ca

Advanced Placement (AP)

Applicants who have completed AP exams with a minimum grade of 4 will be granted appropriate advanced standing (transfer) credit, subject to the discretion of the appropriate Faculty, to a maximum of 3.0 credits.

International Baccalaureate (IB)

If you are enrolled in an IB diploma program, you will need the full IB (three subsidiary and three higher-level subjects), with a minimum of 28 points. Please note some programs are more competitive and will require higher scores. You must also have a grade of 4 or better in prerequisite subjects. IB students may be awarded advanced standing (transfer) credit for higher-level subjects with a grade of 5 or better, subject to the discretion of the appropriate Faculty, to a maximum of 3.0 credits.

International post-secondary students

We will assess any post-secondary studies achieved or currently in progress. If you have completed one year or less of post-secondary studies, please also submit your secondary school transcripts and any graduation exam results. You do not need to apply as a transfer student — the application process is the same for everyone. admissions.carleton.ca/apply

English language requirement

Students whose first language is not English can demonstrate their English language proficiency by presenting proof they have studied for the last three years (full-time) in a high school, college or university in Canada, the United States or any other country in which the primary language is English and where the language of instruction was exclusively English.

Students who do not demonstrate three full-time years in an English medium school as outlined above must present an English language test score.

Students submitting test scores listed in the chart below may begin their degree studies without any English requirement. Those with test scores lower than those listed may still be eligible for an offer of admission with an ESL requirement to complete English language foundation courses in their first terms of degree study.

admissions.carleton.ca/esl

Students beginning their studies with an English language requirement are not eligible for admission to the following programs:

- Architectural Studies
- Health Sciences
- Humanities
- Industrial Design
- Information Technology
- International Business
- Journalism
- Journalism and Humanities
- Media Production and Design
- Nursing
- Public Affairs and Policy Management
- Post-Baccalaureate Diplomas (all)

Enriched Support Program

If your high school grades do not reflect your academic potential or if you have concerns about returning to school after an absence, the Enriched Support Program (ESP) provides a structured environment for students to prove their academic ability. ESP students can register in three full-credit first-year courses, and attend weekly workshops offering academic support. After the ESP year, students who attain the necessary grade point average in their ESP courses are eligible for acceptance into a full-time degree program. admissions.carleton.ca/esp

Indigenous Enriched Support Program

The Indigenous Enriched Support Program (IESP) is an alternative entrance program offered through the Centre for Indigenous Support and Community Engagement. This program offers admission opportunities as well as academic and social support for First Nations (Status and Non-Status), Métis and Inuit students in their first year of study. admissions.carleton.ca/iesp. See page 9 for more information.

For admission to undergraduate programs, Ontario students must have the Ontario Secondary School Diploma (OSSD) with six 4U/M courses. 4U English is recommended. 4U/M credits for Co-op courses will not be considered as part of the six courses. Higher averages are required for admission to programs for which the demand for places by qualified applicants exceeds the number of places available. The overall average required for admission is determined each year on a program by program basis. All programs have limited enrolment. Admission is not guaranteed and all requirements are subject to change. CHECKLIST

1 Carleton360

Register on Carleton360 to receive customized information based on your programs of interests. Receive a tailored experience as you fill in your personal information: 360.carleton.ca

2 Check admissions requirements

Once you've decided which program(s) you are interested in, make sure you have the required prerequisite courses (see pages 78-81) and other admissions requirements.

3 Apply online at OUAC by January 15

Apply to Carleton University through the Ontario Universities' Application Centre (OUAC). ouac.on.ca

After applying, you'll receive an email from us with your Carleton applicant number and MyCarletonOne (MC1) username and password. You can check the status of your application on Carleton360 at any time.

4 Wait to hear from us

While we process your application, follow us on social at @carleton_future and keep an eye out for email alerts from Carleton to learn about upcoming events and admissions information.

5 Accept your admissions offer

After you receive your offer of admission, be sure to accept by the date indicated to reserve your spot in the program. You can view and accept your offer on the Admission Offer Details page on Carleton360.

6 Accept your residence offer

Once you receive your residence offer, you must accept the offer and pay the deposit online by June 9, 2025 to confirm your space, but the earlier, the better.

 The Talking Raven Podcast

"Being a new person on campus can be overwhelming. When I first stepped into the role of Indigenous Initiatives Recruitment Coordinator at Carleton, the staff, faculty and greater Carleton community was so eager to help me and answer any questions I had along the way. I hope to be that guide to new First Nations, Inuit and Métis students at Carleton."

Kaitlin Ransom, (Algonquins of Pikwakanagan First Nation), Indigenous Initiatives Recruitment Coordinator, Undergraduate Recruitment Office
